BachelorTrips

Las Vegas

Las Vegas is the ultimate bachelor party destination, offering non-stop entertainment, world-class nightlife, and adrenaline-pumping activities all in one place. From luxury casinos and high-energy pool parties to top-tier dining and bucket-list experiences like racing supercars or catching a show at the Sphere, there's something for every group. With its iconic Strip, 24/7 action, and endless options for fun, Vegas guarantees an unforgettable send-off before the big day.

WHERE TO STAY

The Flamingo Hotel is a top choice for bachelor parties, offering a prime mid-Strip location with easy access to nightlife, casinos, and entertainment. Known for its affordable rates and newly renovated rooms, the Flamingo features unique bunk bed suites with four queen-size beds, making it ideal for groups looking to stay together without breaking the bank. The hotel is just steps from the LINQ Promenade, home to bars, restaurants, and attractions like the High Roller observation wheel. Plus, the Flamingo GO Pool is a lively spot for daytime partying with DJs, tropical drinks, and a fun atmosphere perfect for a bachelor weekend.

WHAT TO DO

Visit Distilleries: Lexington is a prime destination on the Bourbon Trail, with popular distilleries like Woodford Reserve, Buffalo Trace, Four Roses, and Castle & Key. Tours often sell out months in advance, so it's best to book early. If you miss out on a tour, you can still visit the visitors' centers, explore the grounds, and shop at the gift stores.

Keeneland Horse Races: Catch the excitement at Keeneland during the spring (April) and fall (October) race seasons. Known for its stunning track, it's a great spot to watch live races and place some bets. The spring features the Blue Grass Stakes, and the fall includes the Breeders' Cup Challenge Series.

Visit Breweries: Lexington is home to several great craft breweries including West Sixth Brewing, Country Boy Brewing, Ethereal, Blue Stallion, and Mirror Twin Brewing.

The Distillery District: Once home to multiple distilleries, The Distillery District is now a lively area with tasting rooms, bars, restaurants, and shops—ideal for a fun day of sampling and exploring. The Burl located just across the street offers a fun arcade and is the perfect place to catch a great band when it transforms into a music venue each night.

WHERE TO EAT

Carson's is a must-visit in Lexington. If possible, we recommend visiting twice—once for their amazing brunch, which pairs perfectly with their signature Bloody Mary, and again for dinner to enjoy delicious Southern-inspired dishes in a lively atmosphere. During warmer months, they often feature live music on the outdoor patio.

Malone's is a Lexington staple offering a classic, upscale steakhouse experience that locals and visitors rave about. Known for its premium steaks, fresh seafood, and elegant atmosphere, it's the perfect spot for a casual yet refined dinner. Whether you're craving a perfectly cooked filet mignon or a mouthwatering lobster tail, Malone's has something to satisfy every palate. With a reputation for excellent service and a welcoming vibe, it's a top choice for anyone looking to indulge in a hearty, high-quality meal.

The Distillery District: You'll find unique dining options that pair well with a tour of the local distilleries. Enjoy craft beers, comfort food, and vibrant local flavors while immersing yourself in this historically rich neighborhood.

WHAT TO DO

Barbecue Craw: No bachelor trip to Austin is complete without a barbecue crawl. Plan a route to hit some of the best BBQ joints in the city, including Franklin Barbecue, Micklethwait Craft Meats, and La Barbecue. This food-filled activity will keep your group full and satisfied while sampling some of the best smoked meats in Texas.

Boat Rental: Rent a boat for a fun-filled day on the water with friends on either Lake Austin or Lake Travis. Cruise around, stop at popular sandbars to party, and enjoy the sunshine with music and drinks. Lake Travis is known for its vibrant party spots, where you can anchor at popular locations like Devil's Cove to mingle with other boaters. Lake Austin, on the other hand, offers a more serene but equally fun atmosphere.

Golf: Austin has great golfing options, from the scenic Austin Country Club to the fun atmosphere at Topgolf. For a more scenic round, check out Barton Creek Resort, offering stunning views and challenging courses.

Live Music on 6th St: Known as the live music capital of the world, Sixth Street is home to a variety of bars and venues featuring local and national talent. Whether you're into country, blues, rock, or indie music, there's something to suit every taste here. Don't miss a night out in this legendary music district.

WHERE TO EAT

Franklin Barbecue: Austin's most famous barbecue spot, Franklin Barbecue serves mouth-watering brisket, tender ribs, and smoked sausages. It's a must-try for any meat lover, but be prepared to wait—this legendary spot often has long lines. But trust us, it's worth the wait for some of the best BBQ in the country.

Ember Kitchen: Offers a trendy, upscale dining experience with a focus on wood-fired flavors. Known for its bold, yet balanced dishes, this restaurant combines a lively atmosphere with delicious, locally sourced ingredients. Try their wood-grilled steaks or fresh seafood, and don't miss their signature cocktails. It's a perfect spot for a group to enjoy a great meal in a stylish setting.

P. Terry's: If you're looking for a more affordable but still tasty option, P. Terry's is Austin's favorite burger joint. With juicy, flame-grilled burgers, fries, and milkshakes, it's a quick and satisfying choice, whether you're stopping for lunch or grabbing a late-night snack.

Corner Restaurant: Located inside the JW Marriott, Corner Restaurant offers elevated comfort food with a contemporary twist. Perfect for brunch or dinner, with local favorites and global-inspired options.
